The Answer round off a triumphant 2006 with the release of their new single 'Come Follow Me', released digitally on December 18th 2006 through Albert Productions. This high-speed riff-tastic download offers two exclusive and sought after bonus tracks - an acoustic version of their album highlight 'Preachin'' and a live studio version of the never yet released 'So Cold'.

It's accompanied by a brilliant 70's inspired video where Evangelical front man, Cormac Neeson, tempts TV viewers to part with cash and find God whilst at the same time being led into temptation himself with attractive telephone operators and other er.....appealing vices. A slightly more raunchy X-rated version is available to view online through the band's official site www.theanswer.ie whilst the clean 'church go-er' version is now being showed on Scuzz, Kerrang! TV and VH1!

'Come Follow Me' is the third single to be lifted off their debut album 'RISE', which has just reached Impala SILVER certification status in Europe (including UK and Ire) selling over 40,000 copies since its release in the UK (July) and Europe (Sept).
